paid his own expenses. While at the technical school he played in an orchestra, and is now teaching three classes in college. He allows for himself only three and a half hours for sleep out of the twenty-four.

All this he has done at tremendous sacrifice. His ambition and persistency are to be commended. If he doesn't undermine his health, he bids fair to become a great scientist. He is, however, taking an unwarranted risk, for he is sacrificing the body for the development of the mind.

Criticism of his course, however, should be mild, compared with that given to those who sacrifice sleep and other bodily necessities that they may enjoy what they call "seein life."

Sleep, and plenty of it, is absolutely essential to good physical and mental health. Without sleep

the body must pay a penalty, and the mind will not be allowed to do

Presence Desired on Occasion of George Washington Birthday Celebration.

Alexandria, Va., Jan. 20.—President Wilson will be invited to participate in the Washington anniversary celebration in this city, February 21, when a parade will be held under auspices of the George Washington Birthday Association. The directors of the association at a meeting tonight instructed the secretary to request Representative Carlin to arrange an appointment with Mr. Wilson when a committee will invite the President to be here on that occasion.

It also was announced that the finance ommittee tomorrow will begin to solicit funds among merchants and others. O. H. Kirk, president, presided. The official program for the parade has not been arranged.

Bids for the remodeling of Armory Hall are considerably in excess of what the building committee of Alexandria Light Infantry expected, and as a re-sult, it is probable they will be changed to come within the bounds of the bids submitted. There were five bidders, all local con-

There were five bidders, all local contractors, and Julian D. Knight was the lowest of the five, his bid being $3,300.26. Other bids in their respective order follow: D. E. Bayliss, $9,372.45; Joseph Rodgers, $3,770.26; S. D. De Vaughan, $19,257.45; J. W. Deavers, $10,576.

257.6; J. W. Deavers, $10,576.

The bids will be submitted to the city council January 27.

The proposed improvements provide for shower bath, plumbing, kitchen, cloak and furnace room, in the basement. On the first floor will be a gymnasium and clubroom, and the second floor will be equipped with individual locker rooms. One story will be added in the rear.

John Arrington and John Arnold were sentenced in the Police Court today to thirty days in Jail each on a charge of having in their possession oil alleged to have been stolen from the Emerson En-
